

Name: _____

Date: _____

WORKSHEET

Commas, Conjunctions, and Modifiers

1. Which sentence is correct?
  - a. He stamped his feet and, grabbing his backpack, ran out the door.
  - b. He stamped his feet, and grabbing his backpack, ran out the door.
  - c. Both sentences are correct.
2. Which sentence is correct?
  - a. I forgot to set my alarm, and if the phone hadn't rung I would have been late for school.
  - b. I forgot to set my alarm, and, if the phone hadn't rung, I would have been late for school.
  - c. Both sentences are correct.
3. Which sentence is correct?
  - a. She forgot to confirm her reservation, and if she hadn't arrived for dinner early, the restaurant would have given away her table.
  - b. She forgot to confirm her reservation and, if she hadn't arrived for dinner early, the restaurant would have given away her table.
  - c. Both sentences are correct.
4. Which sentence is correct?
  - a. The refrigerator was empty, and, as she explained to her children, they would need to go shopping.
  - b. The refrigerator was empty, and—as she explained to her children—they would need to go shopping.
  - c. Both sentences are correct.
5. Which sentence is correct?
  - a. It snowed the day of the students' departure, and unfortunately their flight was canceled.
  - b. It snowed, unfortunately, the day of the students' departure, and their flight was canceled.
  - c. Both sentences are correct.